The Opportunity

National Hispanic Medical Association (NHMA) – the premier membership organization committed to advancing the health and well-being of Hispanic and Latino communities – is commencing a national search for its Executive Director (ED). The ED is a new role for the organization reporting to the Board of Directors. The ED will have the overall responsibility for NHMA and its strategic, programmatic and administrative objectives and performance. This is an outstanding, prominent, highly visible leadership opportunity to elevate NHMA and the impact it has to its members and communities.

Founded in 1994, NHMA serves and advocates for 50,000 licensed hispanic physicians in the United States. By growing membership, developing and optimizing industry relationships, and strengthening NHMA's voice and impact with legislative, regulatory, and industry organizations, this new leader will strengthen NHMA's service to members and promote its prominence within the healthcare community. The ED will serve as a spokesperson for NHMA, providing an effective, consistent voice for the organization.

The ED will work closely with the Board of Directors to accomplish the mission and vision of NHMA. The ED will partner with and support the Board Chair, President and Board in a variety of areas, including keeping them apprised of key issues, shaping strategic and programmatic/operating plans and supporting how they fulfill their responsibilities as Board members. Overseeing a staff of 15 professionals and annual revenues of $4.5M, the ED will provide overall leadership on all financial matters, operational issues, reimbursement, fundraising strategies, external relations as well as staff development priorities. The ED is an inspirational leader and works to build strong working partnerships with a variety of associations and organizations and provides leadership in the important work of coordinating and supporting NHMA's many Chapters.

We invite interest from leaders who have the clear ability to understand the unique experiences of Hispanic medical professionals in the healthcare arena and those with experience cultivating impactful relationships with a multitude of constituents. Candidates must have a track record of building effective relationships with people of influence and developing and expanding organizational capacities and services. Candidates must possess strong interpersonal, communication and leadership skills and demonstrate passion and purpose in ways that enlist others and create followership. While healthcare experience is preferred, we invite interest from leaders who have demonstrated successes in serving as an effective spokesperson, developing innovative programs for members and with providing exceptional leadership for a service-focused organization. Candidates must be Spanish speaking and of Hispanic descent. This is an exceptional point in time and opportunity for a leader to advance NHMA's increasingly vibrant mission.

Organization Overview

Founded in 1994, NHMA is a non-profit membership organization that represents 50,000 licensed Hispanic physicians, 1,200 total members, in the United States. The organization was created to fill a void in Washington, D.C., with the need for a voice for Hispanic and Latino physicians as advocates for Hispanic Health with the Federal government. NHMA champions health issues by collaborating with medical societies, Physicians, resident and medical student groups, and influential partners from both the public and private sectors. Key advocacy efforts focus on promoting equitable healthcare access, enhancing health outcomes, and supporting underserved populations.

Headquartered in Washington, D.C., NHMA is a resource to the White House, Congress and the federal government. The organization is a vehicle for developing leadership for public health and private sector Boards and C-Suite positions. Additionally, NHMA affords networking opportunities with stakeholders who have a significant impact on Hispanic health. NHMA also closely partners with the Congressional Hispanic Caucus (CHC), the Congressional Hispanic Conference Institute (CHCI), and other offices in healthcare policy development. Partnership with external groups such as corporations, foundations, media, and coalitions who advocate on healthcare delivery, medical education and health workforce leadership and diversity are foundational for the association.

Mission

To empower Hispanic physicians to lead efforts to improve the health of Hispanic and other underserved populations in collaboration with medical societies, physicians, residents, medical students, and other public and private sector partners.

Vision

To be the national leader in improving the health of Hispanic populations.

Membership

NHMA members have varying backgrounds ranging from private practice, academia, administration, and public service. Advocacy, Education, Leadership Development, and Networking are the four major values of becoming an NHMA member. NHMA offers several membership types for young and established physicians, council of medical society members, international medical graduate members, residents and fellows, health professional students, non-physician professionals, and organizations.

Education

At least two Hispanic Health Policy Briefings occur annually on Capitol Hill where health experts are invited to discuss healthcare policies and programs impacting the health of Hispanics and Latinos. NHMA Summits are a one-day meeting with physicians, healthcare experts, public and private sector leaders focused on strategies and lessons learned on health and wellness issues.

Other educational activities include:

- NHMA Physician Speakers Bureau for National and Regional Conferences, Grand Rounds and for Media
- NHMA Medical School Liaison Program - recruitment and cultural competence activities for leaders, faculty, GME and students
- NHMA Leadership Fellowship for physicians - one year executive leadership program
- Hispanic Leadership Development Fellowship for graduates - one year position at US Department of Health and Human Services with stipend, housing, mentoring, training

- Writing and Editing of Health Policy White Papers
- Participation in health communications campaigns - Media, Social Media
- Letters of Support for Grants related to the improvement of Hispanic health
- Undergraduate and Graduate Student Internships – NHMA provides an opportunity for students to learn about healthcare, disease prevention, as well as national advocacy and policy analysis and nonprofit project management. NHMA hosts approximately seven interns at a time.

Leadership Development

NHMA has trained over 150 Fellows and 200 Resident Leaders with the Department of Health and Human Services serving as the principal sponsor of these programs. The organization delivers and coordinates leadership programs to develop future leaders that they actively nominate in positions on boards, commissions within the federal government, and the corporate sector.

Networking

The NHMA holds its Annual Hispanic Health Conference each year in March. The annual meeting commenced in 1997 and provides the organization an opportunity to build upon its network of physicians, residents, medical students, premedical students, and other providers. Additional networking forums include 18 NHMA Chapter Policy forums that are held annually with health experts. The forums provide a space to educate Congressional staff, and national and local stakeholders on policies and programs.

Newsletter

A monthly e-newsletter is disseminated to members, board members, NHMA Leadership Fellows, public health and health industry officials, meeting participants, and other affiliated contacts with member highlights.

Journal

The Journal of the National Hispanic Medical Association (JNHMA) serves as an educational hub for topics regarding public health, health equity, and the health of Hispanics and other underserved communities. Physicians and other healthcare professionals are encouraged to share their perspectives on important issues affecting Hispanic and Latino communities.

Governance

NHMA is governed by a 17-member Board of Directors. These individuals are broadly representative of the membership of NHMA, geographically, and by institution type. The Board is deeply involved in setting the organization's strategic direction, supporting NHMA, soliciting member engagement, and providing oversight of NHMA's finances and operations.

Position Summary

The ED will provide strategic leadership as well as overall operational and financial management of the organization. The ED will execute the strategic and operational plans of the organization in partnership with the executive staff. The ED will set the tone for the organization and encourage and motivate staff at all levels to accomplish the goals of NHMA.

The ED will act as an external spokesperson for NHMA. The ED will enhance and further develop relationships with key stakeholders including the medical community, the Hispanic community, and as well as other aligned organizations, legislatures, policymakers, and other business partners to ensure the success of the organization.

Reporting Relationships

The ED will report to the Board of Directors. Direct reports include:

- Recommend to the Executive Board for approval the compensation, benefits, and working conditions of the staff
- Review and approve employee time records
- Approve all annual, medical, compensatory, and other employee leave requests

External Relations/Communication

- Ensure that the public, through the news media and other channels, is informed of the facts and the effects of conditions and policies that have a bearing on the interests of NHMA members, their stakeholders and communities
- Ensure that NHMA's relationships with other organizations and entities are consistent with and advance the interests of NHMA, its members, stakeholders and communities
- Facilitate the development of materials, bulletins, reports, correspondence, and other necessary documents and communications
- Coordinate with appropriate staff members to produce and disseminate communications
- Review, edit, proofread, and approve all communications, website content, publications, documents, and printed media that are for public dissemination or consumption

Goals and Objectives

The following goals and objectives have been identified as priorities for this position:

- Provide leadership and strategic counsel to the Board, staff, local chapter leaders and membership in order to achieve NHMA's vision, mission and strategic goals
- Assess and develop policies and procedures for on-boarding staff, develop plan to address recruitment and retention of staff, and serve as a liaison between board and staff members
- Perform an overall evaluation of the current organization around operations and infrastructure, in order to develop a robust strategic plan focused on systemness that will sustain alignment with the organization as it operationalizes its new governing model and the NHMA of the future
- In partnership with the Board, develop a comprehensive strategic plan to support sustainable membership growth that appeals to multi-generational members, sponsors and partners. The ED and Board will develop a clear framework of shorter- and longer-term goals, including identifying resources that support investments and changes in NHMA's infrastructure to meet these goals.
- Develop a brand strategy, marketing plan and value proposition that synthesizes and evolves NHMA as a strong source for medical professionals and thought leadership.
- Identify and develop niche programs whereby NHMA can become a national, "go-to expert" for advice, insight, and understanding
- Work collaboratively and develop strong trusting relationships inside and outside of NHMA in order to fundraise and drive additional programming in terms of executive leadership development, diversity in healthcare clinicians and thought leadership. Focus on driving and evolving revenue streams from diverse funding models
- Partner at a local, regional and national level to establish NHMA as a voice in advocacy and policy development that can affect change
- Define a roadmap and/or playbook to support the local chapters in innovative ways that create greater coordination, support and uniformity
- Develop an annual operating budget and robust financial reporting practices that include appropriate funding for all relevant programs, products and services
- Be conscious and deliberate as NHMA pivots to the future in terms of operations, governance and infrastructure, while maintaining the long-standing values, culture and traditions of the organization

The Community

Washington, D.C.

D.C. is a mosaic of neighborhoods, from historic Capitol Hill and Georgetown to the Penn Quarter's arts scene to the 24/7 buzz of Adams Morgan. The banks of the Potomac and Anacostia rivers are flourishing with some of the capitol region's most exciting destinations for live music, sports, dining, and on-the-water activities.

Washington, D.C., is known as a central hub for American history and politics. There are renowned, free museums and stunning memorials and monuments dedicated to America's leaders, but the District also is known as a great place to live and work.

The District of Columbia has more than 30 neighborhoods and is currently growing at a rate of 1.28% annually and its population has increased by 19.77% since the 2010 census. It is known for its walkability and extensive public transportation system.

The Washington, D.C. Metro — one of the busiest public transportation systems in the country — connects all four quadrants of the city with suburban Virginia and Maryland and is a convenient way to navigate the region. Baltimore and Annapolis are within easy driving distance, as are other Maryland suburbs, and three major airports connect Washington with every major city in the U.S.

The U.S. News & World Report ranked D.C. as:

- #1 in Best Historic Destinations in the USA
- #10 in Best Weekend Getaways
- #12 in Best Places to Visit in the USA
- #4 in Best Family Vacations in the USA
- #7 in Best Spring Vacations
